S. BUSINESS MEN IN MEXICO

avor Recognition, Says Governor of Oklahoma, One of Party—To See When His Health Permits.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Mexico City, Feb. 15.—Gov. J. B. Robertson of Oklahoma, who headed a pilgrimage of 35 Oklahoma business men into Mexico, said today he strongly favors recognition of the Mexican government by the United States.

"If the people of the United States knew Mexican conditions better they would be partial to recognition," said Gov. Robertson. "The sole proviso of the American government should be that it is satisfied with the stability of the Mexican government. There is an astounding amount of ignorance among Americans over conditions in Mexico. This trip has no political significance. We are merely trying to improve business relations of the two countries closer together."

Among others in the American party are W. J. Pettey, president of the Oklahoma City chamber of commerce and Col. A. N. Leacroft, Oklahoma state treasurer.

The visitors have an appointment to see President Obregon and members of the cabinet late today if the president's health permits.

SNOW FROM HERE TO MISSISSIPPI

After the few days of fine weather following Groundhog Day, Kingston residents were of the opinion that probably there would be no further need of keeping the snow shovel handy, and it was again taken to the cellar. Those who labored under that belief were surprised when they awoke this morning to find the city in the grip of another snow storm, and as the day progressed it looked as though the city was in for another heavy snow fall.

All morning the snow fell steadily and early this afternoon several inches had fallen.

New York, Feb. 15.—What promises to be the worst snowstorm of the winter, struck New York city today. Three inches had fallen early today and the storm continued. Elevated and surface car lines were being kept open by using snow-spreaders but traffic was not normal. Ferry service was greatly hampered.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Two inches of ice and snow covered the streets of the national capital this morning, following a storm last night.

Rain was rapidly turning the snow to slush.

Vicksburg, Miss., Feb. 15.—A light snow fell here this morning, the first since the ten inch fall on January 1, 1918.

HAYES IS STILL IN PROTECTORY

Port Ewen Youth Was Committed by Judge McKenzie at Request of Roy's Father Who Later Made Unsuccessful Efforts to Have Boy Released—Was a Wild Lad.

Supreme Court Justice Bijur in New York city has dismissed the writ of habeas corpus sued out by Robert Hayes of Port Ewen to obtain the release of his son, George, who was committed to the New York Catholic Protectory by Police Justice Henry E. McKenzie of Port Ewen the latter part of December at the request of the boy's father. The lad had not been in the institution three weeks when the father started proceedings to obtain his release.

There is an interesting story back of the arrest of the lad on a warrant sworn out by his father, who informed Judge McKenzie that he was unable to do anything to control the boy who made a practice of sleeping in outhouses in the village, and getting into all sorts of mischief. Finally after a number of complaints had been lodged with the police justice Mr. Hayes took the matter up with Judge McKenzie and as a result young Hayes was turned over to the institution on December 6, last. The boy is 14 years old.

The father three weeks later retained Elizabeth B. Guinan of New York city, a member of the New York bar, to obtain the boy's release. Miss Guinan is well known in this vicinity, and at one time resided in Port Ewen. She got in touch with Judge McKenzie, and wrote stating that the institution would release the boy if the justice sent a letter to them expressing the belief that the boy had been punished enough.

The facts in the case were aired thoroughly before Justice Bijur in New York, and it was brought out that the boy's conduct had been a source of annoyance to his parents, the board of education and the authorities in Port Ewen. Judge McKenzie had stated that the boy by playing truant from school had placed in jeopardy $1,200 in public money due the Port Ewen school district on account of violation of the compulsory education act. It was brought out that Father Saunderson of the Catholic parish of that village was in favor of having the boy sent away as well as Miss Mollie Finerty, the Catholic charity agent for this district.

It was brought out that the boy was incessantly using cigarettes and associating with crap players. During the summer months he would neglect school and act as guide for automobile parties who had attempted to cross the Killbuck, but owing to the congestion of travel were guided around by way of the Edsallville bridge. The boy would make as high as $8 and $8 a day, which he used on himself and then would "go to his lodging house," which invariably was the country toilet, where he would sleep. He had also been found in the morning upon the stone steps of business places where he had passed the night.

It was also brought out that the boy at one time opened the hose of a gasoline tank in a garage in Port Ewen, allowing the liquid to run over the sidewalk and then threw a lighted match into the gasoline, nearly destroying the garage by fire. Another time Sleight Sons missed a $20 bill which the boy was accused of stealing.

It was brought out at the hearing that the authorities believed that the lad would be better off in the Protectory than at home.

Justice Bijur announced at the close that he could not go behind a commitment which appeared to be regular on its face and although Mr. and Mrs. Hayes and George were placed on the witness stand nothing developed in their testimony to alter the opinion of the court.

Joseph T. Ryan, a New York attorney, appeared in opposition to the writ.

A WILD NIGHT IN BELFAST

In Which Five Are Killed Is Succeeded by Normal Appearing City at Noon—Terrorists Form Third Faction.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Belfast, Feb. 15.—The twenty-seventh death from mob violence in this city and suburbs during the past four days occurred this morning. Five men were shot to death between midnight and 11 o'clock. Two were killed in the Bloomfield district and one in Springfield avenue. All had evidently been shot by snipers. A number of others were wounded.

The excitement quieted down late in the morning and by early afternoon the city had begun to appear normal.

Belfast passed through a wild night of terror with sniping and bombing in many of the streets.

Hundreds of civilians have barricaded their homes and are afraid to venture outside the doors.

Large forces of soldiers and police are patrolling the streets.

At midnight a man was found dead in one of the built-up streets. He had been shot to death and then his head had been beaten to pulp.

A workman who had been fatally wounded while repairing street car lines, died in the hospital.

Street railway men and mill workers were fired upon indiscriminately by the terrorists who are apparently affiliated with the Sinn Fein nor the Orangemen, but are carrying on a private war of their own against everybody.

CONGRESS MOILS AROUND BONUS

Democrats and Agricultural Bloc Said to Be Ready to Beat Sales Tax, Favored by President, in House.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Feb. 15.—Congress continued today in a turmoil of cross purposes over the soldiers' bonus while Republican leaders of the senate and house were still groping for a way out of the tangled situation created by the president's rejection of their proposals for special taxes, or a bond issue, to raise the necessary money.

Republican members of the senate finance and house ways and means committee met again behind closed doors in the hope that the president would communicate some advice directly to them as to how they might best attempt to straighten out the situation.

It was considered not unlikely that the president would express his view of the situation in a letter addressed to either Chairman McCumber of the senate committee, or to Chairman Fordney of the house committee, or both.

Meanwhile the pressure for a sales tax as a means of financing the bonus, was being exerted with renewed determination by Senators Smoot of Utah, Edge of New Jersey, Moses of New Hampshire, and others in favor of it.

They were spurred to fresh activities by the knowledge that the president himself believed in a sales tax although inclined to leave to the judgment of congress whether one should be imposed.

Chairman Fordney, however, was said to be among the house Republicans who had frankly informed the president that the combined opposition of the democratic minority and the "agricultural bloc" in the lower chamber would be sufficient to insure the defeat of a sales tax there.

Senator Smoot proposed to overcome the opposition of the "agricultural bloc" by suggesting again a renewed determination by Senators Smoot of Utah, Edge of New Jersey, Moses of New Hampshire, and others in favor of it.

MASONS HELD A CONFERENCE HERE

Two Hundred Delegates Attended the Greene-Clatter District Conference in Rooms of Roundout Lodge on Tuesday.

The annual exemplification conference of the Greene-Clatter Masonic District held in the rooms of Roundout Lodge, No. 342, F. & A. M., in the Masonic Building, Broadway and Strand, on Tuesday afternoon and evening was attended by over two hundred delegates from the fourteen Masonic lodges in this district.

At the afternoon session the first and second degrees were exemplified in standard form by officers from the various lodges of the district. At the close of the conference the delegates were entertained at a dinner served in the lodge rooms by the ladies of Kingston Chapter, No. 155, O. E. S. There was an even larger attendance of Masons at the evening session, and the Master Mason degree was exemplified by the officers of Roundout Lodge in faultless style. A pleasant feature of the evening was the address by Right Worshipful Horace Smith, grand lecturer of the grand lodge of the state, who spoke eloquently on the principles of Masonry and traced its growth in this country.

At both sessions the grand lecturer had full charge of the work and was assisted by George B. Ohley of Saugerties, district grand lecturer of the Greene-Clatter District, and by District Deputy Grand Master Philip A. Goodwin of Coxsack.

At the close of the exemplification Roundout Lodge served delegates, visitors and members with refreshments and a smoker was held and a social hour enjoyed.

SPECIAL DODGE CAR TAKES EYE OF MANY

Who Wish Style Combined With Low Upkeep.

John Van Benschoten, Inc., local agents for the Dodge Brothers motor cars, has on display in the show rooms, 17-19 Railroad avenue, a Dodge seven passenger suburban sedan. The car is a regular Dodge chassis on which is mounted a special seven passenger body built by the Oxmond Body Company. The interior is lined with a handsome purple cloth and presents a very pleasing appearance. Between the front and rear seats is a plate glass window which may be lowered or raised to give privacy to the occupants of the rear compartment. For a person who wishes to maintain a chauffeur and operate a smart medium price car this special job appeals. This model presents a smart appearing car combined with the well known reliability and economy of the Dodge Brothers car. Two ventilators are provided in the top to give fresh air and the glass between the front and rear seats may be lowered, making the car practically as sociable as a sedan. The two extra seats when not in use fold up and slide under the front seats.

Since taking over the agency for the Dodge cars in Kingston, John Van Benschoten, Inc., has fitted out display rooms in the building formerly occupied by the George J. Schryver Motor Car Company on Railroad avenue, where all models of Dodge cars and delivery trucks are displayed. Several changes have been made in the 1922 cars embodying greater comfort and better looks. Longer springs, bigger brakes, four inch cord tires, plate glass in the rear of the top and many other refinements have been added, and the cars are attracting considerable favorable comment on the street.

Special Services at Wurts St. Baptist Church

Tuesday evening there was another large attendance. The pastor, the Rev. R. P. Ingersoll, is conducting the meetings. In opening the meetings Monday evening he somewhat changed the usual way of conducting the meetings, in that he asked the members at the opening of the service what they thought the idea and purpose of the prayer meetings were. Several expressed their opinion that the purpose of holding the meetings was to revive and awaken the members as to their responsibilities in winning others to the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ.

Tuesday evening he explained three different ways of holding special meetings. First, having a special evangelist conduct the meetings. Second, the pastor having charge, and third, individual evangelistic effort on the part of its members. He put particular emphasis on the third reason in that it has been proven by experience that individual, personal work on the part of the members of the church was more lasting and gave better results. In closing he thanked all for the splendid enthusiasm shown in the service. Tonight will be Sunday School night and the pastor wishes all members of the Sunday School to be present. The public is invited to attend these meetings.

Her First Love Affair.

I experienced my first love affair when I was thirteen. I had a bicycle, on which I went for a ride with a neighbor boy, and he took quite a liking to me. So he called on me the next Sunday evening. I saw him coming, and slipped behind the door, not wanting to see him. My mother told him I was out, but would be back after a while. He leaned up against the door I was behind and stood there waiting for me to come. I stood it as long as I could, then slipped out from behind the door, exhausted. He never called again.—Chicago Journal.

Avoid crowds, sleep with your window open, at the first sign of a cold, fever and sore throat, or that Grippe feeling, commence taking Heneph's Cold & Grippe Tablets, that contain no acetanilide to weaken the heart, and apply Heneph's Red Salve Liniment. Nightly applications of Red Salve Liniment will aid nature in relieving inflammation. Because Red Salve Liniment acts locally by stimulation, through the skin to draw out the inflammation, attracts the blood away from the congested spots and relieves the pain. In addition, the medical ingredients of Red Salve Liniment are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas. These two preparations are being sold at the price of one at all dealers for the month of February. They are two well known remedies and should be in every home as a relief and preventative of Cold & Grippe and Influenza. A 50c jar of Red Salve Liniment free with a 50c package of Cold & Grippe Tablets. If your dealer does not have them send direct to Heneph Co. Inc., Kingston, N. Y.

HATS OF THE DAY

Variety of Form, Choice of Material to Suit All Tastes.

Last Cloth of Silver and Tulle Are Fashionable Trimmings for Evening Wear.

A pretty hat by any other name would still bring joy to the heart of any really feminine woman. A new hat observes a fashion writer in the Chicago Evening American, means a new expression, a new face, and there are many tempting chances to acquire new beauty in every shop window just now.

"What is the most stylish shape?" Oh, what a hard question to answer! Never in all my life have I seen such a large variety of form, such choice of material nor so many different yet exquisite interpretations of today's mode.

Tulle hats have had their day and now we notice the U-appearance of charming concoctions in satin, crepe, marocain; and felt, so popular this winter, is more so than ever just now, for it fills a long felt need in millinery. The hat brim turned up from the face is still decidedly in favor, while the trimming falling, as it were, on the right side seems almost de rigueur.

For evening wear lace cloth of silver and tulle are the fashionable trappings, while the small turban is as ever the favorite evening headpiece.

There is nothing more chic this season than the small Russian black tulle turban created by Lanvin, with its brim turned sharply up and trimmed in front with huge white shells, while a tassel of these same exceedingly new shells hangs at each side. Black tulle trails over the left shoulder to the very hem of the skirt.

To wear with the strictly tailored suit nothing can take the place of the small black satin hat fitting the head snugly and trimmed, to suit the mode, with a thin chantilly lace veil. The tiny tricornette, with a fancy hat-top as its sole garniture proves a street hat delightful in its simplicity. Very smart also and most tailored is the new Charles VII hat of pale gray drapery trimmed right in the front with a huge steel buckle. The draped hat is still preferred to the blocked shape.

Very new and striking the round "cavalier" hat, black suede lined with either white, gray or champagne suede leather, turned up at the left side, down at the right and trimmed with a drooping feather the same shade as the underbrim.

Another wintry-looking shape is of black satin, exceedingly shiny, trimmed with a wide jet rose.

Fur, fur everywhere. Maria Guy, the leading Parisian modiste, sends us a lovely creation in a brown silk duvetyn harlequin hat weathered around its crown with crushed heavier roses. The use of fur tassels as hat trimmings is one of the fancies of winter's fashion.

Nevertheless feathers are too great beautifiers ever to be neglected by milliners. As a matter of fact, they run 90 per cent of the new creations. Glycerinized ostrich and burnt goose are lavishly used and are seen on the prettiest shapes.

Hand painting is found on many of the new imported models. For street wear henna, brown and rust are still the favorite shades.

DRESS SUIT LIKE MOTHER'S

This is a dress that will gladden the heart of a little girl. It is of jade green duvetyn over a slip of pearl gray crepe de chine. The tightly-buttoned cuffs and the high collar are sure to make the little miss feel grown up.

To Clean Satens.

To clean dark satens and cretonnes first soak the material in cold water, to which two table-spoonsfuls of salt have been added for every gallon; this will set the colors and draw out the dressing; wring out and wash in a thick soap suds, but do not rub away in. Rinse thoroughly, put through a thin fine sieve, wring out and shake well. Dry in the shade. When nearly dry take down and pull both ways, but do not iron.

Place Smooth. If an unlined or unlined hard-wood case business gallery apply a solution of two ounces of oxalic acid dissolved in just enough water to wet it all over. Let stand 15 or 20 minutes; then wash in cold water and wash without iron.

SOME BONUS QUESTIONS.

A veteran of the World War, signing himself "A Gold Striper," writes from Carlisle Barracks, Pa., to ask some rather pointed questions. He is not one of those fortunately enough placed to be able to scorn a bonus, for he says his salary is small enough to be exempt from income tax. Yet he asks: "What percentage of unemployed ex-soldiers would now be employed had they never been called to the colors? Excluding the disabled and possibly a few at least who are purposely loafing. Should the bonus bill be passed, would not just about 50 per cent of the bunch who are now idle and in such dire straits be in just as deplorable a condition a year hence? If an accurate census were taken—definite proof required rather than a few decidedly ambiguous claims set forth in generalities—would there not be a very small percentage indeed who could lay claim to a bonus because of their financial circumstances being worse today than they were before the war?"

It would be interesting to see accurate answers to these questions, and also to this one: How many veterans have found their earning power increased by their army experience, with its educational fruits—even apart from special training—in the form of broadened mental vision, developed capacity for concentration and acquired powers of quick effect? The complaint of time "lost" in the service has recalled to a Virginia veteran a story told of General Robert E. Lee when he was acting as a college president in his home town. An overworking student having explained that he was "making up for time lost in the army," General Lee said to him that the time he had spent in the army would ever be "the most profitably spent portion" of his life.

While so many Americans are writing and talking about the increasing lack of respect for law in this country, it is interesting to find that a German professor, quoted in the Living Age, declares that what struck him most forcibly when visiting the United States recently was the scrupulous and willing obedience to law on the part of everybody whether the law were popular or not. Though the prohibition law, for example, is objected to by many in America, he says, the whole American public accepts it with remarkable docility and obeys it to the letter, instead of violating it as would be done in Germany under similar circumstances. It seems to be characteristic of the German observer in foreign countries to be able to see only a part of the truth.

Justice Clarke of the United States Supreme Court appeals to all members of the bar not to carry cases to the court of the last resort without conscientiously, as citizens rather than attorneys, asking themselves whether the case "is of sufficient general importance to justify calling to the attention of, and imposing the labor of an examination of it upon, a court primarily organized to deal with matters of the greatest public concern." This would bring much needed simplification into the crowded work of the great court, but perhaps it asks more public spirit and unselfishness than can be expected of the legal profession in general. To secure the desired results it would seem to be necessary for the supreme court to reject trivial cases of its own motion and power.

In his last interview Marshal Foch relates that for forty years he rode horseback daily in preparation for war service and when the great war came, instead of riding a horse he found it necessary to ride an automobile! His forty years of horseback riding were not wasted, however.

Frank Tannenbaum, of a picturesque past, thinks no man should be made a judge unless he has served a term in prison. If to deserve a term is regarded as just as good a preparation, the plan might be workable in at least the one particular of providing enough material.

After phibing politics with the bonus question, the politicians are danger in both directions. If they don't put the bonus bill through congress they will face a hostile soldier vote at the polls next November. And if they do put the bonus bill through with the special taxes inevitably required they will face a hostile tax-burdened public on election day.

What do you know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper. Look for answers in this column.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. How old is the ostrich when it first begins to breed?
2. What is the most harmful insect in the world?
3. I have a turtle the size of a silver dollar, with a dark shell with black dots. The underneath is gray. I keep it in a pan of water and sand, and it completely buries itself in the sand. What kind of a turtle is it, and what will it feed on?

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Do birds have crops?
 No, in some species there is no need of a preliminary storing chamber, and food goes down the oesophagus just as in humans. In others a distinct pocket holds food, water, saliva, etc., probably allowing the mixture to become somewhat softened before more active digestion begins in the stomach.

2. What is the quickest growing tree in the eastern United States?
 The alantus probably. This is an introduced species, from China and Japan but it is so common in this country as to be naturalized. It stands smoke and city dirt admirably, and it kept cut back somewhat, keeps a handsome head of foliage. The Carolina poplar or cottonwood is also a rapid grower.

3. What is the most effective way to get rid of rats? I cannot coax them into a wire trap no matter what bait I use.
 A good trap is a barrel whose head is covered with strong paper, well tacked on. Place toasted cheese or something odorous on this several nights till the rats get to running there. Then make two cross cuts through the paper at the middle. The weight of the rat will bend in the points at the cross, letting the rat fall into the barrel. This, and many styles of trap, are described in Farmer's Bulletin 856. Also styles of poisoning.

How it Happened.
 "And have you a father?" asked the charity worker of a ragged urchin.
 "Nope," he replied. "pa died of exposure."
 "Poor man. How did it happen?"
 "Another guy snatched, and they hung him."

EAGER TO HEAR BECK THIRD TIME

A very interesting program is being arranged for the first annual meeting of the Boys' Welfare Council to take place at the high school Friday evening, February 24. One of the achievements of the council was the vocational survey, a report of which will be presented at the meeting. A special feature will be an address by Cameron Beck, of the New York Stock Exchange. Those who heard this wonderful speaker at the Rotary Club and at the high school some time ago are looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to hear him again. A number of persons who were fortunate to hear him before agree with Dr. Seeley that his address will in itself be a notable event in the community. Other prominent speakers will deliver short talks appertaining to the welfare of boys.

PAY RURAL TUITION FEE PROMPTLY, URGES OLIN.

Urgent Remarks From an Esopus Parent.

Ulster Park, Feb. 14, 1922.
 Editor, the Kingston Freeman.
 In regard to this high school tuition fee for rural residents. It seems to me it's about time that the parents of these rural high school pupils were heard from. In the first place, the rural child will never be on an equal footing with the city child, as long as taxpayers only can vote at school meetings. Two out of three are too selfish and penurious to want a good district school. And the majority of districts will not pay this tuition fee until they are forced to do it.

I heard that one of the taxpayers of our district threatened to lick the trustee if he paid it. I wish that man would come to me. I don't fear man, beast or devil. Nothing but God.

The people of the city of Kingston taxed their citizens to build and operate a magnificent high school and the tax was paid without question or quibble. Not only large enough to educate their own children, but with the view in mind that there would be children from the country districts to educate, and with no thought, at that time, of charging them any tuition fee. Later they found that the average resident of the town of Esopus had more wealth than the average resident of the city. So they thought, "Sure, these people need no charity."

The people of Kingston want these big things. Ex-Mayor Canfield and Mayor Crane stood for all improvements. A better city. The opposition the reverse. And they won, with big majorities in a strong Democratic city.

Now are we going to acknowledge before the world that we are more narrow-minded and penurious than the people of Kingston? We could build a high school, but we haven't done it. And we did not help to build the Kingston high. Isn't it just that we should help to maintain it when our children go there and receive the same treatment that the city boys and girls do? I have not a doubt, but that if we go before the Kingston board of education and tell them that, although our citizens are richer than theirs, our citizens are too selfish and penurious to help build or to help support a high school. Then I have no doubt the people of Kingston will say, "All right, we will educate them for you. Reared in those surroundings they must need it."

I have a boy going to Kingston High. I don't care anything about the forty dollars. If my district, No. 4, will pay it voluntarily and promptly I will give the forty dollars to the church. This is a fight for better education for all time to come, rather than for the present time.

I have a friend that moved from Union Center to Kingston. He has a boy and girl going to high school. Just because he moved over the city line his children are taught and furnished everything free. If he tried to pay a tuition fee to the Kingston board of education they would not accept it.

Now what are we country districts going to do? Are we going to acknowledge before the world that we are more narrow-minded, penurious and selfish than the city people? Or are we going to step up and pay this tuition fee voluntarily and not under compulsion, promptly, and not procrastinate, not only now but for all time?
 R. G. OLIN.

SOON TOO LATE FOR ULSTER DINNER TICKETS.

County Society Can't Enlarge Dining Quarters.

The first two days this week brought many acceptances for the sixth annual dinner of the Ulster County Society to be held in The Biltmore Tuesday evening, February 21. The late ones, unless they make reservations by Friday of this week, can blame no one but themselves if the seating arrangements are not to their satisfaction, hence they should, if they intend coming, get in their applications. As soon as the limited number is reached, checks cannot be accepted, as the society is unable to put an addition on the room which is assigned to it at The Biltmore.

Exide BATTERIES

The First Automobile Starting Battery

Not so long ago all automobiles were cranked by hand. The year 1911 saw the first car regularly furnished with electric starting and lighting equipment. It had an Exide Battery. Today millions of cars are Exide-equipped.

Not so long ago farms were lighted by kerosene lamps—dim and dangerous. And farm work, like pumping, churning, washing, was done by human hands. Now thousands of farms have the modern comfort and economy of electric light and power—and most of such plants have Exide Batteries.

The first automobile battery was made possible, and the successful farm lighting battery was made possible, through the experience of the manufacturers of Exide in building batteries for every industrial and government purpose since the beginning of the storage battery business.

The result of this experience is a battery for your car that gives the maximum combination of power, reliability, and long life.

Nearby there is an Exide Service Station that can be useful to you.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BOWEN

GOOD NEWS.

"I've been here in the zoo for some time," said Daddy Buffalo, "and of course I do not keep up very well with the news outside of the zoo. But today I heard of some news, and it was very good news. I will tell all the buffaloes about it, and perhaps it will go about the zoo so that others will hear of it too."

"I heard that they were protecting buffaloes more and more all the time, now."

"I was told that they didn't go after buffaloes to kill them but that they brought some of them to a zoo and people learned of their ways and of their habits and became interested in them, and others they left quite from."

"I was told, too, that buffaloes were considered good and interesting, and that they should be protected."

"Of course I think that, but it is nice to have people think that, too."

"It is nice," said the other buffaloes. "You have good news for us, Daddy Buffalo."

"Then I heard that more and more were people protecting and doing all they could do to protect wild animals."

"They are protecting the Moose more than ever before. The same is true of the Deer family, and the Bears and the Mountain Goat family and the Sheep family."

"Old Grizzly is being thought well of, as he should be thought of. To be sure he isn't a great friend of mine, but then he is a fine fellow, a fine old fellow indeed."

"They are doing more and more to help us live. It is splendid news! Splendid news!"

"Splendid news," said all the other buffaloes.

"Then," said Daddy Buffalo, "I heard some other news, too. I heard that people were more and more studying animals in a zoo or from stories or watching them when they could, or taking pictures of them."

"And that guns were being considered rightly as the cruel things that they are."

"Isn't that fine news?"

"I heard, too," said Daddy Buffalo, "that people were taking walks to see birds and looking at them and leaving seed and bread crumbs about for them. But that they weren't doing anything cruel, such as going after their nests or the little eggs that would grow into birding children."

"I suppose some of this is old news, but old news or not, it is good news."

"Most certainly you have brought us good news," said the buffaloes. "Or that is, you have heard good news, and you are telling it to us."

"How nice it is to hear good news, how very nice, indeed. There is nothing like good news to make creatures feel happy and pleased."

"And my news is quite true," said Daddy Buffalo. "I know that it is quite true."

"Makes it all the better," said the buffaloes.

"All the better," said Daddy Buffalo. "To think," he continued, "that people are growing more and more to think that animals are interesting and that they have a right to live, too."

"And that they want to be good to us and do what they can for us. Oh, such thoughts do make me happy."

"They make us happy, too," said the buffaloes.

"And the news must get around to all those who don't know it," said Daddy Buffalo.

"The news must get around," said the other buffaloes, "and the Elk family and the Mountain Goat family and all the others must hear of it."

"I'll tell some of the birds to carry the message to the other animals," said Daddy Buffalo.

"Oh, yes, that will be the way, for every creature in the zoo must know of the good news."

"They must indeed, they must indeed," agreed all the buffaloes.

"And the good news was heard by all the creatures in the zoo."

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

If recipes call for butter you can substitute other fats such as chicken suet or pork fat.

The following table will be helpful to save for reference:

Fourteen tablespoons (seven-eighths of a cup) of beef fat, clarified, equal one cupful of butter.

Fourteen tablespoonsful of clarified mutton fat equal one cupful of butter.

Fourteen tablespoonsful of clarified chicken fat equal one cupful of butter.

Fourteen tablespoonsful of cornmeal compound equal one cupful of butter.

Fourteen tablespoonsful of corn oil equal one cupful of butter.

Fourteen tablespoonsful of corn oil equal one cupful of butter.

Fourteen tablespoonsful of hardened vegetable fat equal one cupful of butter.

Fourteen tablespoonsful of lard equal one cupful of butter.

One cupful of oleomargarine equals one cupful of butter.

One cupful of 18 per cent cream equals three tablespoonsful of butter.

One cupful of 40 per cent cream equals one-half cupful of butter.

In using fats for meat pies, beef drippings may be used for the pastry.

Hung, bacon and sausage fats may be used to season vegetables and other food combinations.

Chicken, duck and goose fat for cookies and spiced cakes.

Any strong-flavored fat may be used in lightly seasoned foods, spread or chocolate and fruit extract flavored.

Corn oil for French dressing and mayonnaise.

Chicken fat and bacon fat to spread on sandwiches in place of butter.

Corn Pone.—Take one cupful of cornmeal, one tablespoonful of vegetable oil or one and one-half tablespoonsful of chopped cracklings, one teaspoonful of salt and one-third to one-half cupful of water to make a soft dough. Cook in a greased frying pan 20 or 30 minutes, then finish baking in the oven.

Pike's Peak Conquered.

July 15, 1920, Dr. Frank James again

ished the world by climbing to the top of Pike's peak, 14,100 feet above the sea.

In April, 1919, a government war tank attempted to climb the peak, but was blocked by snowdrifts.

A month later a caterpillar tractor made the ascent. Thousands of tourists now ascend the peak every year by auto, on foot and by rail.

Voices Louder Under a Tunnel.

Voices appear louder under a tunnel because the sounds are immediately reflected. Just as a gas reflector increases the intensity of light, so a sound reflector will increase the apparent strength of the voice.

And Hang It in the Trophy Room.

A pike weighing twenty-six pounds, upon being hooked by a Chesapeake fisherman, pulled him in the canal. His escape was much regretted by the fish, who had decided to have him stuffed.

—London Punch.

Not Guilty.

Sunday School Teacher—"Tommy, who was it that led the children of Israel into Canaan?" "I don't know, ma'am, but it wasn't me. I just moved here from Chicago."

"Fifty-Fifty."

At supper mother asked Buddy how he got along with arithmetic that day. He answered with some pride: "I know'd almost as much as I didn't know."

The Silver Lining.

People who are in the habit of worrying because they have too little to do, would do well to remember that every year we have nearly two months of Sundays.

Myon Quality Compound.

Perhaps the most quickly written hymn was "From Greenwood's Key Hymnbook," which was composed by Bishop Weber in little more than fifteen minutes.

Rich, Brown Fish Cakes

Suit my Appetite

THE kind the Down-East fishermen eat in Gloucester. Flavorous, meaty, sun-cured cod fish, tasty with the tang of the Atlantic, blended with good meaty Maine potatoes. Fry to a golden brown and serve piping hot. Gorton's Ready-to-Fry certainly suits me.

Cod cakes used to be a lot of bother, but now you can get Gorton's all prepared. No mixing, peeling, or soaking. Just open the enamel lined can of Gorton's Ready-to-Fry, pat into cakes and pop into the hot fat.

The family can have delicious fish cakes often as they want now. And besides—

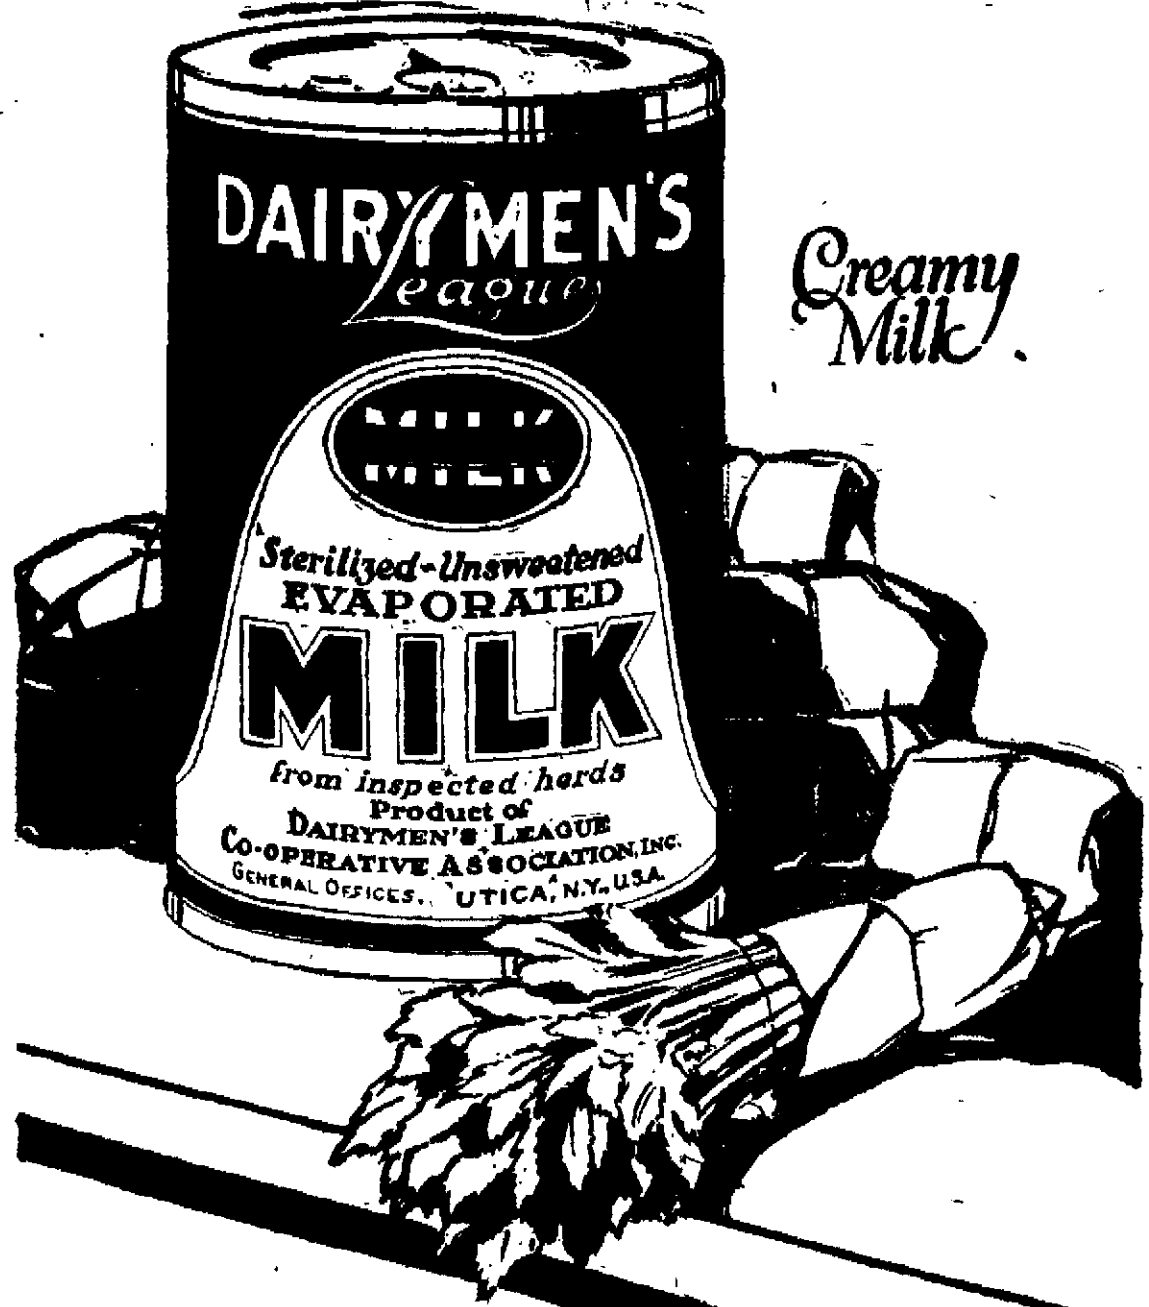

They're much more inexpensive than a meal of meat or eggs, and a can makes enough for three hungry appetites.

Get a can of convenient Gorton's Cod Fish cakes tomorrow. Let your family enjoy that flavor. Sold at grocers everywhere.

Blue Favored by Men.
Ask any man what color he likes his wife or sweetheart to wear, and it's ten chances to one he'll tell you "white" or "blue." White has always been held to represent purity. The Bible uses that color to symbolize absolute stainlessness; poets from the very first have sung about it, and writers have written about the whiteness of a good woman's soul. In the same way blue has always been held to mean gentleness, truth and steadfastness.

Hard to Estimate One's Power.
It is just as hard for a man to estimate his own powers, except by performance, as it is for him to estimate those of another. The feeling of power seems to be no guide at all. The world is full of egotistical fools who seem to feel genuinely sure that they were born to high destiny, while many great men can scarcely believe in their own powers, even after they have discovered it. —Exchange.

Care of a Sick Child.
That the mind affects the body is generally admitted. That the body also affects the mind is equally true, and is particularly noticeable in the case of a sick child which, of course, makes no effort to conceal its feelings. A child's state of mind, therefore, is a good indication of its health. According to Dr. A. Levinson of Chicago, a child's illness may be diagnosed to a certain extent by its mental symptoms and it cannot be properly cared for except by one who understands the psychology of a sick child. —Denver Times.

"Tell it to the Marines."
Tell it to the marines is an expression frequently heard in England although it is not so common in Canada. The marines were soldiers placed on battleships in the old days when boarding and hand-to-hand fighting were common. As these men did not know anything about seamanship it was a common practice to tell them the most outrageous sea-stories, all of which they would believe. Consequently whenever any one told a hard-to-believe story he was adjured to tell it to the marines.

Red Letter Day.
This phrase means just what it says—today so important that it is recorded in red letters on the treasury. It originated in the custom of the Bank of England of recording all saints' days, holidays, and other times when no banking was done in red ink on the calendars.

Vitamin Tablets

Results

Science has at last shown how we sometimes grow weak, thin, and emaciated on an abundance of food (lacking in vitamins) while with a much smaller amount of food, rich in vitamins, we may quickly turn on good firm flesh, decrease in weight, and make a remarkable gain in strength, energy and condurance, provided your blood contains sufficient quantity of oxygenated organic iron to enable your body to assimilate your food properly.

Without organic iron both food and vitamins are absolutely useless as your body cannot change lifeless inert food matter into living cells and tissues unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood.

For centuries scientists tried in vain to make organic iron. At last the problem was solved so that you may now obtain pure organic iron from the iron in your blood from any drugist under the name of "Nuxated Iron."

It has been arranged to give every purchaser of Nuxated Iron, who wishes to put on flesh or increase weight a large regular $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamin Tablets absolutely free.

Be sure to take only Nuxated Brand
Yeast Vitamin Tablets with Nuxated Iron. Do not be misled by imitations which often contain drugs.

COLLINS BACK TO IRELAND TONIGHT

Departure After Seeing British (M-L)als—Fate of Bill for Irish Free-
State and Continuation of Lloyd-George Government Depend Upon
Developments in Ireland.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Feb. 15.—Threats of revolution and civil war in Ireland are being utilized by political enemies of Premier Lloyd-George in efforts to overthrow the coalition government. The British cabinet is cooperating with the Irish provisional government at Dublin to restore tranquillity along the Ulster border and prevent future outbreaks.

"I have every reason to believe that the evacuation of British troops from Ireland will be resumed and will speedily be completed," said Michael Collins, minister of finance in the Dublin government, after an interview with Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill at noon.

"We believe we can cope with the situation. I am going back to Ireland tonight."

The flying trip of Collins to London was believed by his friends to have done considerable good. Collins feared that if the orders cancelling evacuation of British troops from Ireland were continued in force, they would weaken the powers of the provisional government.

For the first time it was admitted in Downing Street circles this afternoon that the Free State bill (conferring the powers of the Anglo-Irish treaty upon the Dublin government) may not pass the house of commons. The opinion was expressed that the fate of the bill will depend upon conditions in Ireland when the vote is taken at the end of this week.

The future of the Lloyd-George ministry hangs upon the fate of this measure. If commons votes down the bill the premier will resign at once. If the bill is passed by only a small majority, it is expected that the premier will call a general election.

In the meantime if conditions improve in Ireland and killings cease in Ulster kidnapped prisoners are released and removal of British troops is resumed it is likely that the bill will pass by a large majority. This would be a victory both for Premier Lloyd-George and Collins.

Unionist members of the political coalition are fighting the bill as the best means of attacking Lloyd-George and his cabinet. Every effort is being made by the premier's enemies in commons to increase opposition to the measure.

See This New Low-Priced Sedan!

Two more cylinders make a world of difference.

You notice it when the LIGHT-SIX slows down to a snail's gait in traffic. You notice it when the open highway ahead invites the throttle. You notice it in the greater responsiveness, the greater flexibility, the greater s-m-o-o-t-h-n-e-s-s and in the absence of vibration.

There are new driving pleasures waiting for you in the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX Sedan.

Not only is its motor more powerful,
more flexible and freer from vibration than any other light six-cylinder motor ever produced, but the perfect distribution of the car weight over all four wheels gives it unusual riding and driving qualities.

If you have been accustomed to driving a "four," the responsiveness of the LIGHT-SIX will be a revelation. If you are now driving another six-cylinder car, the lack of vibration and perfect balance of this LIGHT-SIX will create new standards of riding comfort.

But, equally important, is the new low price of $1750—an intrinsic value without parallel in the industry!

SKEPTICISM OUT OF PLACE

No Announcement of Scientific Discovery May Today Be Looked Upon as Fantastic

That the butterfly contains within itself what Huxley would have called the promise and potency of the cure of tuberculosis and perhaps of other malignant plagues might seem fantastic proposition were it not for our memory of its antecedent, remarks the North American Review. It is now about 55 years since Pasteur perceived the fermentation of beer and wine
the principle which emboldened him to declare that we should one day learn to eliminate all communicable diseases from the world. But Pasteur and other veterans of science were incredulous.
But, crying "Travaille toi, four-gure travillier!" the young master of them all proceeded to cure first the "sickness" of beer and wine then the "silkworm disease" then a formidable poultry pestilence, then one of the deadliest plagues of cattle.

Having thus worked his way up in the scale of life he addressed himself by the same methods to the salu-vation of man from what had been regarded as the most hopeless and horrible of diseases—rabies and thus opened the way of Lamer of Koch, of Flay and Carrel and to all the unspeakably beneficent wonders of the science of bacterial therapeutics. If thus Pasteur found in an atom of yeast
the cure for rabies typhoid, cholera, malaria, yellow fever, diphtheria and bubonic plague, there is no occasion for skepticism when his disciple, Metal-nikow, suggests that in the larva of a butterfly may be found the cure for other pestilences.

TOBACCO USERS NOT IMMUNE

Only Germs of Cholera and Meningitis
Succumb to Smoke or Juice of Nicotine

Professor Puntieri of the University of Rome has performed a series of experiments by way of determining whether tobacco, smoked or chewed, would act as a disinfectant against disease germs. For the purpose he used tobacco cigars, Macdonald cigars, cigarettes and very strong chewing tobacco. He placed a piece of paper covered with a snipe which contained the germs of cholera, typhoid, diptheria, typhoid and meningitis in a glass jar and then filled the jar with smoke or covered the paper with tobacco juice says New York Evening Post.

He has arrived at the depressing conclusion that, except in the case of cholera and meningitis, tobacco is powerless in the presence of germs. As to typhoid and diphtheria he exposed the bacteria to the strongest of smoke from tobacco cigars for one hour and they were as robust as at the beginning of the experiment as at the beginning.

As a general conclusion, Professor Puntieri says that the most voracious smoker or chewer can hope for no protection from his indulgence. The elements of tobacco that infect in the case of cholera and meningitis are tar, nicotine and formaldehyde.

belles along the African Congo, according to an announcement by a Chi-

The firm's foreign department angian Congo of a re-act order for such undergarments for 12 of the chief's favorite wives. Because of the color and size it was necessary to have them made to order.

"The results are quite satisfactory
however," the chief wrote.

With the chemise order came funds for "shoes with watches in their toes," rubber boots with copper toes, pink silk stockings and several hundred pounds of beads and brightly-colored cottons.

MILLER AGAINST BONUS BY TAX

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Feb. 15.—Governor Miller is strongly opposed to the raising of money for a soldier bonus by the imposition of additional taxation.

After a conference with representatives of the American Legion and service men in the legislature, the governor said today that he had not changed his opinion that the condition of the state's revenues and the treasury does not admit of the payment of the bonus directly without some new additional taxation to provide for it.

TOO WEAK TO RUN TAXI AFTER SECURING JOB.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Feb. 15.—John William Hays, 24, construction engineer of Wheeling, W. Va., graduate of the University of Virginia.

Such is the description of himself, given by a well dressed young man held without bond on six charges, pending investigation of the most remarkable story the night court has heard in weeks.

Hays was arrested when a taxi he was driving defied a policeman's signal and crashed into a limousine.

He told the policeman he had not eaten for three days and he was so weak that the policeman bought him a meal before taking him along to court. Job hunting hopelessly, after days of failure, he said, he had stopped at a garage, had been given a taxi, and was too weak from hunger to manage it.

STATE DEPARTMENT SPEAKER ANNOUNCED FOR NEXT MEETING.

The Parent-Teachers' Association of School No. 7 held a very successful meeting Tuesday afternoon during the business session the treasurer, Miss Salzmunn, reported a balance of $61.49 in the treasury, with all bills paid. The members were reminded of the bazaar which is to be held somewhere in the central part of the city the first Friday in April. Each organization is to have charge of a different kind of booth and the proceeds of the sales are to be divided equally between the various organizations. Mention was also made of the spring conference to be held in Newburgh.

The program which followed the business session was greatly appreciated by all members of the organization. Mrs. Carlton Preston in her "Questions for Child Welfare Day," so impressed her hearers that each of them will undoubtedly strive a little harder to live up to the ideals pointed out by Mrs. Preston for the welfare of the child.

The recitations by Natalie De Witt, Gladys Cassidy and Mrs. Van Wagenen added to the pleasure of the afternoon, and the paper by Mrs. Edward Leyscraft on "How a Parent Can Help a Teacher," gave many valuable suggestions wherein a parent may be of real service not only to the teacher but to the child as well. Mrs. Leyscraft in her charming manner emphasized her points by personal illustrations. The next meeting of the club will be held in the evening, March 14, and Miss Eleanor Gray, of the state department of education, will be the principal speaker. Her subject will be "Backward and Mentally Subnormal Children." A cordial invitation is extended to the other Parent-Teacher organizations of the city.

WILL NOT VETO SUNDAY BASEBALL ORDINANCE.

Which Was Adopted By Common Council At Last Session.

It is understood that Mayor Crane will not veto the Sunday baseball ordinance adopted at the last meeting of the common council with but two dissenting votes, and that the official publication of the ordinance started this week. The ordinance before it goes into effect has to be published at least twice in the official papers.

The Sunday baseball ordinance will go into effect without the mayor's signature as he did not sign it. As it was adopted by more than a three-fourths vote of the common council it becomes effective without his signing the measure.

NAVAL SAVING TO PAY BONUS

Is Now Hope of Republicans in Congress—Mellon's Insistence That $200,000,000 Be Lent to Make Up Is Obstacle.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Feb. 15.—The "naval holiday" dreamed by the armament conference may offer Congress a short and easy way out of the soldiers' bonus muddle. Republican leaders indicated today.

They suggested that the $200,000,000 big saving expected to be effected in navy appropriations as a result of the limitation of naval armament fixed by the conference, could be readily diverted to paying for the bonus.

The chief obstacle to the suggested use for the bonus of savings effected in appropriations, it was pointed out, may be presented by Secretary Mellon, who is understood to have already informed the president in discussing the bonus situation with him, that the government takes a deficit of $300,000,000 this year, and that whatever economies Congress is able to accomplish would be required to make up this deficit.

In addition the Masonic fraternity from Kingston, with which Mr. DeWitt had been associated for many years. The service began with a prayer and reading of the regular funeral service by the Rev. Mr. French, of the village church, following which the service was conducted according to the highly impressive Masonic ritual, conducted by Philip Elting, of Kingston Lodge of Masons. At the grave in the new cemetery the Rev. Mr. French again offered prayer and read the usual commitment service, while Mr. Elting followed with the solemn service of the Masonic ritual. Appropriate music on the violin added to the impressiveness of the service.

Lowell Club Social Afternoon.
On Tuesday afternoon the members of the Lowell Club enjoyed their annual social meeting at the home of Miss Fuller on Albany avenue. The program arranged for the entertainment of the club members was unique and delightful. This club Japan the afternoon was devoted. The program opened with violin solos by Mrs. Cullyer, accompanied by Mrs. Van Buren. Mrs. Cullyer played two short Japanese love songs. Then Miss Fuller gave a recitation of the story and opera, "Madam Butterfly," with excerpts from the opera played on the phonograph, all of which was indeed charming. Following "Madam Butterfly," so cleverly presented, Mrs. Cullyer played two other numbers, a "Viennese Melody" and "Old Reel." The violin numbers were highly appreciated. After the program imported refreshments were served, with all of the decorations Japanese and very picturesque. Next week the Lowell Club will meet with Mrs. Schoonmaker.

SATISFIED WITH DULL LIVES

Siamese Require Little, and Now a Government Which Does That They Get It.

Bangkok, for all its modern water-works and trolley cars is a fairly tame land, with a fairly tame king, writes Florence Burgen Moehan in Asia Magazine. In Bangkok the king is a reality, not a figurehead. Two or three times a day whistles announce his approach along the street, as he takes the route to or from the golden-roofed palace and the audience hall two miles distant.

Rama VI, Oxford graduate, playwright, poet and keen administrator—is perhaps the most absolute of all the monarchs left on earth. He is an autocrat, but his government is more like an advanced state socialism than anything else. The state owns the main lines of the railroads, the oil fields, the forests and the mines. The street cars and waterworks and the lighting system of the capital are state property, and the king is the state.

Siamese are satisfied with autocracy. Siam seems to be the happiest land in the world. It has no exclusive laws. It has no class system. They are a happy-go-lucky people. Their by-word is "Meepeany" ("What does it matter?") They cultivate their little rice paddies, and work at jewelry or ivory carving or weaving, but they almost invariably remain craftsmen in a small way, content with a mere livelihood.

DAY OF HORSE ALMOST GONE.

Increasing Use of Motor Apparatus Will Soon Make Him Only a Loving Memory.

A defective shoe had brought the fire department to Tenth and Tenth streets. New bright red motor apparatus came rushing up from a half-dozen firehouses. Presently a worn old hook and ladder truck, horse-drawn, appeared on the scene. It carried just the ladders the firemen needed to reach the fire.

The crowd that gathered smiled at the picture. The old horses seemed to know that they were playing an important part, even in the presence of their enemies, the motor apparatus. It was a picture of a changing time. One by one the motor machines turned away, leaving the horse machine to finish the job.

Somewhat, the crowd moved toward the horses and, one by one, men, women and children, paused to stroke the manes or pat the noses of the faithful old beasts that now are fast passing to the Land of Memory.

And, somehow, the horses seemed to know and understand. Their heads were not down, however. Instead, they looked around and saw that the enemy had left the light to them.

"Still on the job," they would have said had the crowd the power to understand them.

Yes, still on the job, but—going—going—Indianapolis News.

National Museum Gets Opals.

The National museum in Washington has just received from Archie Rice, an opal expert in New York, 100 specimens of gem opals in the rough just as they come from the only opal mines in the United States.

The opals are red, white, black, brown, green and purple; two have replaced fossil wood, and three possibly fossil bones.

The mine is located in Humboldt county, Nevada, about a mile above sea level and some 200 miles inland from the Pacific; not very accessible, since the railroad town of Winnemucca is about 120 miles away. Because of the high altitude, the ordinary water content of the opals is often injuriously affected when they are removed from the ground.

Thus far, excavation for opals has gone only to a depth of 20 or 30 feet.

Prickly Pear Worries Australians.

The kind of cactus which we called the "prickly pear" has become a first-class nuisance in Australia. It grows very fast, spreads with great rapidity and forms masses of vegetation so dense that the clearing of ground once occupied by the plant is accomplished with utmost difficulty. Incidentally, it renders the land unavailable for agricultural purposes.

In response to urgent request, our government is sending to Australia, certain insects that prey upon the prickly pear. Hope is entertained that they may do enough damage to discourage the spread of the cactus plague in that part of the world.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Cheap Light.

Science and invention describes a recent achievement of a French scientist, who has successfully tried out in his house a scheme for operating electric lights without cost.

Upon his water-supply pipe he has fitted a high-speed water turbine, which drives a dynamo, charging a storage battery. Every time a faucet is turned on in the house the stream of water is put to work at turning the battery, which furnishes current for the lights. "It is simply utilizing energy that is ordinarily wasted," says the inventor.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Overlooked.

"What is your idea of a grafter?" "A grafter," replied Senator Sherman, "is a man who, when he feels an opportunity knocking at his door, isn't satisfied to give it a careful look, but insists on dragging it in and beating the life out of it."

Know His Lesson.

"Ten of my speaking about him," I recall the conversation together. When, after climbing his throat, explained that "you saw a man who was talking and said the copyright to a publisher for a bottle of poison."—Boston Transcript.

Who Knows Mary's Age?

The "Mysterious Miss Red" who she is called, is a handsome young woman, who is attracting much attention at Miami Beach, Florida, with her daring costumes, although many at the resort confess that they have already passed the stage of being shocked at beach attractions. This "woman of mystery" is a girl of one of the fashionable hotels and is reputed to be a millionaire's princess, but nothing further has been learned.

NO NURSING CLASS TONIGHT

Physicians in charge of the free nursing class deem it unwise to call people out to a class tonight. Therefore the next meeting of the class in nursing will be held next Monday evening at the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. The Freeman will announce next Monday night's program.

The railroad shares showed gains of small fractions with the exception of Reading which was half lower.

The market showed a strong tone throughout the forenoon, most of the leading issues advancing about one point from the initial levels. U. S. Steel again moved into new high ground for the year touching 9 1/2, and Baldwin Locomotive rose to 10 1/4. Crucible Steel was heavy falling 1 1/2 to 6 1/4. Canadian Pacific moved up 2 points to 13 1/2.

FOUNTAIN IS WORK OF ART

Beautiful Features of New Attraction
Soon to Be Put in Operation
at Dallas, Tex.

A stream of water spouting 75 feet in the air, beautifully illuminated by ever-changing colored rays from four powerful incandescent searchlights, hidden beneath plate glass at the base, will be the outstanding feature of what promises to be America's most spectacular fountain, which has just been erected in the garden of Ferris place, facing the new Union station at Dallas, Tex.

It will be known as the plan-chromatic illuminated fountain, states the Edison Sales Builder. Colored flood lights have been used before in illuminating fountains, but never before have the scheme of using 5,000 (50) candle power incandescent searchlights with constantly changing colored screens been attempted. The large basin is 50 feet across and the secondary or elevated basin is 1 1/2 feet in diameter.

In the water of the large basin are eight small jets, each illuminated by a colored floodlight from beneath. In the small basin, spouting water toward the main stream, are eight dolphins. Underneath the inner basin, which has a plate glass ceiling, is a circular chamber 14 by 8 feet. This houses the four big searchlights and apparatus for operating the changeable color screens. Entrance to this is from a small passage-way leading to a manhole on the outside of the larger basin. The entire system is automatic and needs no attendant.

HE'S RIGHT

Trick Elephant Now Financial Expert.

A sagacious elephant, Hassan, at the Budapest "Zoo," refuses to work any longer for depreciated Hungarian kroners, according to the London Daily Mail correspondent.

A child who wished to have a ride on the elephant's back was surprised at having a kroner note returned with a disgusted snort. However, Mr. Rieger, of the American Red Cross at Budapest, tried Hassan with a dollar bill, which the elephant took in his trunk and promptly handed to the keeper.

A possible explanation is offered by Hassan's keeper, who points out that the new and unpleasant chemicals used in printing the new issue kroner notes may offend Hassan.

East Indian Laborers Slow.

A story is told of a British army officer in India who watched some native workmen making packing-cases. Their slow progress irritated him so much that he thought he might get them to make a snail. He told the superintendent that one English carpenter would turn out more cases in a day than ten of his native workmen. This put the Indian on his heels, and a trial was suggested, a skilled carpenter being found in the ranks of the artillery. The following day this strange test took place, and by closing time the one Englishman was three packing-cases ahead of the ten natives.

Fish Imprisoned in Can.

During the war empty powder cans were thrown overboard at Sullivans point from the naval base of Cape Wray, N. J. A short time ago a fisherman got a bite and on pulling in he found he had caught a can but it was not empty, for a fish's head protruded and it had the hook in its mouth. The canned fish was in one of the empty powder tins and supposition is that it went in when it was small and grew there until it was too big to get out.

Long-Lived Family.

A correspondent from Lunenburg, N. S., writes: "Here are the ages of five members of one family, four sisters and one brother: Mrs. Samuel Horvath, ninety-four, Lunenburg; Mrs. David Seaboyer, ninety-two, Bridgewater; Mrs. Ellen Acker, eighty-four, Second Peninsula; Mrs. Gaetz, eighty-two, Lunenburg; George Acker, eighty, Second Peninsula. Average eighty-six years."

Very Much Out of Season.

A Nova Scotia reader says he found a strawberry blossom, in full bloom, on November 4, on a farm in East Amherst. He also says he picked a handful of ripe wild raspberries on the same farm on September 19 and September 25.

Some Turnips.

Four turnips raised by a farmer at Northport, three miles from Lunenburg, N. S., each weighed 14 to 15 pounds, the size of a peck measure, just making a bushel.

AFRICA LOSING WILD GAME

Unless Speedily Afforded Protection
Many Species Will Shortly Become Utterly Extinct.

South Africa, which has long been regarded as having an almost inexhaustible supply of wild game, is threatened with extinction of several of its most valuable species, animals for which explorers and hunters like Colonel Roosevelt sought in moderation, and which others have slaughtered wantonly for their hides, horns, or merely for the pleasure of killing. In an article in the Zoological Society Bulletin, A. K. Haagner, director of the National Zoological Gardens of South Africa at Pretoria, says that many wild animals may soon be as scarce in Africa as others are in the United States.

The white rhinoceros, the graceful nyala—a species of antelope—the kudu and the mountain zebra, a quaint little animal with the stripes in which children at the zoo delight, are rapidly vanishing from the South African hills and plains, and those interested in their preservation are finding great difficulty in arousing the people of the country to the necessity for protecting them in preserves.

EXPLAINING KNOTS ON TREES

They Mark Spots Where the Branches
Have Left the Parent Stem or Trunk.

"Trees are formed of three parts—the roots, the parent stem or trunk, and the branches. When the trees are cut up into lumber, the first of these parts is useless, and generally is left in the ground to be salvaged later for other purposes.

The branches of the tree are also comparatively useless, but the trunk produces a number of valuable planks in proportion to its diameter.

In spite of the fact that the branches have been lopped off, they leave their mark upon the parent stem in the shape of hard, round or oval spots, which we call "knots." Each of these knots shows where the limb of the tree was growing, because the limb had its beginning in the heart of the trunk, drawing its sustenance directly from the central source of supply.

The hardness of knots is due to the fact that more strength is required at the base of the limb than farther out.

Weasel Displayed Cunning.

A fair example of cunning was afforded by a weasel at a sawmill in Bruce county, Ontario. The animal took on the job of killing a number of rats. After exterminating the lot excepting one large fellow, the weasel dug a hole under the corner of a lumber pile and then tackled his heavier antagonist, which chased him into the hole. When the spectators thought the weasel was "done for" he came out the other end and went in after the rat. It was not long before the ingenious weasel came out with the dead rat. On investigation it was found that the weasel had made the hole small at one end so that the rodent could not get through, and it was then attacked from the rear.

NEBULA SHOWS SOME SPEED

Body Flying Through the Heavens at Rate of Two Thousand Kilometers a Second.

The Lowell observatory in Flagstaff, Ariz., has held a stop watch on the fastest moving object ever discovered. The spiral nebula catalogued as No. 54, Draper's catalogue, constellation of Cygnus, is flying through the heavens at the rate of 2,000 kilometers a second. An airplane going at this speed would circumnavigate the earth at the equator in less than half a minute. The spiral nebulae are the swiftest moving objects in the known universe, but no one has ever before been detected shooting through the heavens at much more than half the speed of 554-Draper-Cetus. Most stars move slowly and sedately along at about 100 kilometers a second. What is perhaps rather humiliating to us earth dwellers is the fact that 554-Draper-Cetus is moving in the direction away from our own earth and sun.

Of course the speed of light, which is nearly 300,000 kilometers a second, makes the speed of the spiral nebulae seem insignificant. But light does not have to "carry weight," whereas the nebulae, though perhaps an extremely diffuse and tenuous form of matter, are none the less material objects of quite considerable ponderosity. So, until we get later news from the celestial racetracks, we can state that the spiral nebula in Cygnus is the speediest thing coming down the "celestial pike."—New York Independent.

SPORT ADORER BY FILIPINOS

Cock Fighting the One Occupation That Appeals to the Heart of the Brown Brothers.

In every one of the larger cities of the Philippines and throughout every one of the thousands of little barrios—from northern Luzon to southern Mindanao—little barrios that fringe the ocean's edge or nestle among the hills, there is but one universal and adored sport, but one game that is pre-eminently popular from the mountain fastnesses of the headhunters to the southern shores of Moroland, and that is cock fighting.

Every Sunday morning—for Sunday is the great day for the sport—at the first crack of dawn along the roads and trails that lead into the little settlements and on the streets that twist through the smelly and ramshackle barrios, will be met numbers of Filipinos waiting with a quick, jaunty step, anticipation written plainly upon their brown faces and an unusual light in their dark eyes. Each carries his favorite game cock under his arm, and all are converging upon the cockpit.

"Lost" Lincoln a Mystery.

An oil painting of Abraham Lincoln, 25 by 35 inches in size, rescued several years ago from a pile of supposedly worthless furniture taken from the old Red Lion inn in Philadelphia, today forms a mystery over which there is much discussion by artists. After its rescue the picture was hung in a Philadelphia residence where a painter, Haruch M. Feldman, happened upon it and purchased it. He began the work of reclaiming it, and after the dirt had been removed the portrait stood out, clear and well defined in all its features.

Artists who have seen the picture are agreed that the character of the portrait is such that the suggestion that it might have been painted from a photograph is rendered absurd. Who painted the "lost" Lincoln is a mystery, and there is no mark or sign to give those studying it a clue that might lead to its identification.

Shows Kindergarten's Value.

The importance of the kindergarten as an Americanizing influence was urged by Maj. Bradley Martin, president of the National Kindergarten association, at the recent regional children's conference in New York.

"The kindergarten," said Major Martin, "is obviously the ideal means of Americanizing the family through the child; as the child through singing parlour songs and playing games with other children and receiving moral and ethical instruction, not

BAKER DROPS HIS CHARGES
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Feb. 15. Satisfied with explanations of alleged tampering of players, made by President Ebbets of the Brooklyn Dodgers and President Brudon of the St. Louis Cardinals, President Baker of the Philadelphia Nationals will not make formal charges in the case. The explanations showed to the satisfaction of Baker that no intentional transgression of the rule was intended and the incident was closed.

National League moguls, meeting here yesterday, rejected the proposed $1,000 prize to be given to the player of most value to his team, a scheme adopted by the American League. It was decided that the plan would exploit individual playing at the expense of team work.

According to the schedule adopted, opening games will be played as follows: On April 12; Brooklyn Dodgers vs. Giants at Polo Ground; Boston at Philadelphia, Chicago at Cincinnati and Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

The league's staff of umpires, announced by President Heydler, will consist of Emslie, O'Day, Klein, Richter, Quigley, McCormick, Moran, Hart, Sentell and Pfirman. Sentell comes from the Texas League and Pfirman from the Southern League.

LOCALS TURN TABLES ON ALBANY
Nick Harvey Plays Spectacular Game; Carl Husta Is Big Point Getter of the Evening.

Frank Morgenweck, Jr., brought the message from his sick father, stating that R. Powers would take the place of Artus, who is also ill with grip. Morgenweck was also absent. The message also stated that C. Husta would play Morgenweck's forward position as he had an injured leg, received in the Albany-Kingston game Saturday night. Referee Davey read the foretold announcement before he blew the whistle starting the game at the Armory Tuesday night.

Honey Russell was absent due to sickness, which likewise changed the regular Albany lineup. Collins took Riconda's position at forward, the latter playing guard.

C. Husta was the big point getter of the evening, having nine points to his credit. He caged one from the floor and made good seven out of 10 tries from the penalty line. Nick Harvey again was the best floor man and his clever passing was essential in defeating the Senators. He also caged two from the floor and two from the chalk line. Jimmy Clinton also played a good game, scoring seven points while his mate, Barney Sedran scored eight. Ralph Powers played a very good floor game and was in the game every minute. Lehr did very good on the toss-ups, but made a poor showing from the free gift line. Seven out of seven was the number he missed.

Sedran and Riconda played best for the upstarters. Sedran made three fields and two fouls, while Riconda made two fields and three fouls. Duval and Nugent were kept scoreless. Collins shot four from the chalk line.

Five field baskets were made by each team. Albany made good nine out of twenty two tries and Kingston fourteen out of thirty three tries from the penalty line. A very poor showing for both clubs.

During the first half Barney Sedran caged three pretty ones from the floor and his team mates made four fouls. Carl Husta and Clinton made a field basket each and out of nine attempts from the fifteen foot mark made good seven. Carl Husta caged three, Harvey and Clinton each two. A total of eleven points.

Riconda started the second half by caging a field and a foul, putting their team in the lead but this was not for long as Husta registered from the chalk, followed by Clinton making good twice and tying the score. Fourteen all. Harvey and Riconda each made a field putting the score at sixteen all with ten minutes remaining. Husta made good three fouls and Lehr sank one from the floor. Collins and Sedran made good from the complimentary line. Score 23 to 18, three minutes to play with five points to the good the locals did some passing, killing time. The game wound up with Clinton and Collins making each a foul.

Score:
Kingston. F G F T P
C. Husta, Jr. 1 7 9
R. Powers, Jr. 0 0 0

FORDS RUN 34 MILES ON GALLON GASOLINE
Start Easy in Cold Weather—Other Cars Show Proportionate Result.

A new carburetor which cuts down gas consumption of any motor and reduces gasoline bills from one third to one-half is the proud achievement of the Air-Phosor Carburetor Co., 111 Madison St., Dayton, Ohio. This remarkable invention not only increases the power of motors from 30 to 50 per cent, but enables every car to run slow on high gear. It also makes it easy to start a Ford or any other car in the coldest weather. You can use the very cheapest grade of gasoline or half gasoline and half kerosene and still get more power and more mileage than you now get from the highest test gasoline. All Ford owners can get as high as 34 miles to a gallon of gasoline. So sure are the manufacturers of the immense saving their new carburetor will make that they offer to send it on 30 days' trial to every car owner. As it can be put on or taken off in a few minutes by anyone all readers of this paper who want to try it should send their name, address and make of car to the manufacturers at once. They also want local agents, to whom they offer exceptionally large profits. Write them today. Advertisement.

This was taken to mean that he may later change his mind and consent to become a candidate in opposition to Trammell, whose term of office will expire next year.
